Automotive Service Technology

McFatter TECHNICAL COLLEGE

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Automotive Service Technology is a technical certificate program that offers students the training needed to obtain a career in the automotive repair field. Successful graduates can find employment as apprentice technicians, maintenance and light repair technicians, quick service and tire technicians, auto parts professionals, general line technicians and other automotive service related positions.

Students develop the technical foundation necessary to diagnose, overhaul, repair, or replace automobile systems and their components. Through class theory, demonstrations, hands-on activities, and on-line components, students are prepared to join the workforce or pursue a degree in advanced automotive service or management. Courses are taught by licensed instructors who are Master Technicians with over three decades of industry experience.
